Give my love to your wife, and tell her how very very happy I should be to make her acquaintance, as well as to know your Mother, and your little children.

Excuse my troubling you so frequently, and believe me to remain

Yours very sincerely

My dear Mr Fermin

I have just received a letter from Rome, in which Mr Field informs me, that there is an intention of erecting a monument to the memory of my poor brother, and his faithful friend Severn.

With kind remembrances to all, and many apologies for troubling you so often.

Believe me to remain
Yours very sincerely
Fanny Keats de Llanos
